AULD HINTS TIGHTER CONTROLS ON BOATING

As with motorists, it may be necessary to licence all Ontario boat operators and require owners to carry public liability insurance on their craft, Hon. James Auld, minister of tourism and information, said recently.

Speaking to the Rideau Lakes - Thousand Island Regional Tourist Council, the minister said he was basing his remarks purely on the preliminary findings of a detailed engineering survey which, among other things, suggests stricter controls on pleasure boating.

Boats and automobiles, he said, were in some ways related, pointing out that present-day boating in Ontario is facing some of the problems that confronted motoring in the 1920's.

He said demands for facilities, such as marinas and docking areas, were not keeping pace with boating's growing popularity. "There is some overcrowding and some abuse of privileges, and we must therefore face up to the fact there may be a growing need for stricter regulations of boaters."

Mr. Auld pointed to a new and developing trend — the use of power cruisers as mobile cottages — adding that in eastern Ontario there are nearly a quarter as many cruisers as there as cottages.

He said uncontrolled and unregulated development can no longer be tolerated on the boating scene and that many of the problems concerning this field were obvious: Such as lack of marinas, difficulty of enforcing existing regulations, needed improvements in canals and locks, new alternate routes between prime target areas, better control of waste disposal, and that recent troublemaker — low water levels.

The minister said there was little point in promoting the province's waterways to potential travellers until some of the premier problems were remedied. What was needed along the waterways, he said, was a program of development to ensure an adequate number of slips and dockage to accommodate the boats using them.

He cited more accommodation, repair shops, eating places, telephone and sanitary services as urgent basic needs outlined in the engineer's report.

"But," he added, "the report also points out that boaters cannot be expected to have all these handed them on a silver platter, particularly in the case of government developments."

"Somebody is going to have to foot the bill and, in this case, it might rightly be the boaters who will be responsible for financing better boating facilities, possibly through such means as toll charges, reduced gasoline rebates or annual licencing fees."

He said there already was a form of licencing for power boats and stricter enforcement of safety regulations and that these controls, plus insurance coverage, may have to be extended to cover boating of every type.

MOTORIST FINED

Clarence Alton of RR 1, Minden, was fined $75 and costs by Magistrate Ian Munro Wednesday for having care and control of a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired.

He was charged by Minden OPP following an incident near the village Jan. 30.

EASTON'S WIN AWARD

Easton's Red and White Food Store in Minden won an award from National Grocers Co. Ltd. of Orillia for the quality of service that the store gives to the public.

The award has been presented to only four stores since it was first presented and was initially won by Easton's Red and White store in Haliburton.

The award was presented to Mr. William Coneybeare by Red and White supervisor Gil Robertson.

SAFE DRIVER

AWARD BANQUET

LANDS AND FORESTS MOVES

Three popular members of the Lindsay district staff are shortly to leave: C. S. Windsor to enter retirement, J. Lever to assume a parks post in the Lake Erie district, and J. L. Hamill to fill a position in the Parry Sound district.

C. S. "Stan" Windsor was born and spent his formative years in Anstruther Township in this district. After serving with the 6th Reserve Battalion in England during the first World War he returned to Canada and became self employed as a sawmill operator, trapper and hunting and fishing guide.

In 1938 he brought his background of forest, fish and wildlife knowledge to the Department of Lands and Forests, in which service he has served since, in the capacity of conservation officer.

During these past 27 years Stan Windsor has discharged his responsibilities as a conservation officer with a dedication and a sense of fairness that earned the respect of his fellow employees and the residents of his patrol area; all of whom wish him most sincerely, good health and much happiness for many to come.

"Jim" Lever began his department career in 1956 as a carpenter - foreman in charge

A MOVIE MAKES A UNIQUE GIFT!

One of the most appealing wedding gifts is a movie of the wedding ceremony itself.

A professional photographer will probably be on hand for formal portraits. But not even a professional can be in two places at once — he just can't capture every happy, informal moment. That's where you, and your movie camera, enter the scene.

Whether the wedding is in traditional June — or in July or January — the crucial point for the amateur photographer is planning. To film a complete wedding story, it's a good idea to prepare a "shooting script" in advance so you won't overlook any highlights.

Of course, you can't anticipate all the best picture opportunities beforehand. Coverage must be tailored to the type of wedding. However, you'll probably want to start with the wedding preparations and follow through with the bride and groom departing from the reception amid showers of confetti and rice.

For example, your opening shots could be at the bride's home, picturing the bride adjusting her veil, and chatting with her family. Then, at the church, you'll follow through with shots of the exterior of the building, the groom and best man in the vestry, and the arrival of the bride and her father. After the ceremony itself, there's the departure on the honeymoon. To the alert photographer, each highlight offers opportunities for several shots.

You'll want a light bar for interior shots. As for the actual wedding ceremony, it's generally best to take close-ups at rehearsal the night before, and then edit these shots into the correct sequence.

Natural light inside the church is usually dim, and artificial light for photos is generally discouraged during an actual ceremony. However, once the couple start down the aisle to leave the church it's alright to use a light bar or flash.

To add interest, some of your movie shots should be in close-up, others in medium shot and long shot. To establish the movie location, long shots usually require 10 or 12 seconds. Medium shots of five or six seconds are used to focus attention on the subjects of your movie, in this case, the bride and groom.

And don't forget to inject plenty of close-ups (three or four seconds long); they seem to make your movie really "live".

Some final tips: Check your camera and equipment before the big event. Keep plenty of film available. Arrive in good time so you can choose the best spots for pictures. Then aim, hold your camera steady and shoot away.

Nearly 700 Registered Nurses serving as Red Cross Volunteer Instructors gave 9,000 hours of service to conduct home nursing classes in many Canadian communities last year.

News and Views

from the Minister's Study

Going away for holidays is always good, but coming back home is always better. There was a special sort of satisfaction in holidays this year. As well as having a good rest and time to catch up on some reading, it was a real lift to have the services carried on very largely by members of the Minden, Maple Lake and Carnarvon congregations. The first of the three Sundays was in charge of the Rev. Eric Smalley, the secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation, who reports being warmly entertained during his stay here.

The second Sunday was in the hands of the MinCarMa A.O.T.S. Men's Club with Mr. Nelson Ward the preacher for the day.

The last Sunday the United Church Women were responsible for the services on the charge, and at Minden and Maple Lake Dr. Agnes Jamieson was the speaker with members of the U.C.W. assisting. While at Carnarvon the service was shared by a goodly number of the ladies of the congregation. Very fine reports have come to me of all these services and I wish to express appreciation for all of those who shared in making these services a witness of the strength of faith among lay men and women.

Perhaps a little hesitantly at first, it was decided to hold the March meeting of the Young Adult Study Group. From the enthusiastic comments that have come our way the meeting was a most spirited one with good debate and discussion. The next meeting of the group will be held on Sunday, April 11th at 7:30 p.m. at the Manse. The group welcomes all young adults who are not afraid to have their beliefs and ideas challenged.

Looking forward to Easter, a full and varied schedule of services has been planned. Sunday, April 11th which is Palm Sunday, will be Communion Sunday on the Minden-Carnarvon pastoral charge and a number of people will be uniting with the church on profession of faith in Jesus Christ or by letter of transfer from other congregations. On Wednesday of Holy Week, April 14th, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a congregational service in Minden United Church to examine our personal growth in the faith and to renew our vows of church membership.

Good Friday Services will be held in Carnarvon United Church at 10:30 a.m. and in Minden United Church at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, April 16th.

There will be the traditional Easter Sunrise Service on Easter Morning for all the young people of the charge, although plans for the place and speaker are not complete at this time. And, of course, we look forward to Easter services themselves with a note of triumph conveyed in music and the Word.

From the shopping bag of mail that collected during the holidays the most exciting thing to emerge was a little 60 page booklet entitled: "Why the Sea Is Boiling Hot".

It begins with six brief chapters written by six critics of the church. The first of these is a look at the organized church by Pierre Berton of "The Comfortable Pew" fame, and includes others on finances, clergy, local congregations, theological jargon and churchly trappings by such well-known writers as June Callwood, Eric Nichol, and Arnold Edinborough.

A typical comment made by Miss Callwood: "The United Church Women, conceived to enlarge and vitalize the women's groups, in most places has slipped back to a corsetted existence." But the booklet does not stop, as so many do, at this negative point, but goes on to offer a positive and constructive challenge to all who will read and ponder upon it.

The longer one is in the ministry and in a community, the more aware he becomes of the large number of questions and problems facing people. At the same time a minister isn't always able to visit in homes at the time he may be most needed. In order to be more readily available at such times, I am planning upon being in the Church Study at Minden each Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and in the evening from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. The door will be open, so please feel free to stop in any time.

Easter reminds us that God, who gave His best for us, demands our best for Him. The few lines of verse here show us that we all have something to offer to Him.

The Man with a Consecrated Car

He couldn't speak before a crowd;

He couldn't teach a class;

But when he came to Sunday School

He brought the folks "en masse".

He couldn't sing to save his life,

In public couldn't pray,

But always his "jalopy"

Was crammed on each Lord's Day.

Although he could not sing,

Nor teach, nor lead in prayer,

He listened well and had a smile

And he was always there

With all the others whom he brought,

Who lived both near and far,
And God's work prospered — for he had

A consecrated car.

RESTRICTIONS ON RIFES NEEDED

At a recent council meeting Lutterworth Council expressed some concern over the dangerous practice of hunters carrying high powered rifles during the summer months.

Their concern and the need to control this unsafe practice deserves some consideration. There is absolutely no reason for a hunter to carry a high powered rifle, except during the two week hunting season in the fall.

However, during the last few years we have frequently seen hunters following this dangerous practice. Transients are the main culprits and it seems that the number is increasing yearly.

With the large number of people visiting this area on holidays during the summer months some municipal officials believe that this problem must be controlled by some sort of legislation.

We are not sure what steps can be taken, but we do believe it would be better if it was done at the county level.

This item deserves a place on the agenda of the June session of Haliburton County Council.

Correspondence for the Minden Progress should be addressed to Box No. 264, Minden.

REGIONAL CENTENNIAL PLANNING CONFERENCE

Participation in the Centennial of Confederation by Canadians of all ages and from all walks of life was urged by local and visiting speakers at the Regional Centennial Planning Conference held Mar. 25 at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Haliburton.

One of the 38 regional conferences, designed by the Department of Tourism and Information to aid local municipalities in planning their centennial projects, the meeting was attended by representatives from surrounding towns and townships, and from the local Order of the Eastern Star, Red Cross, Women's Institute and Canadian Cancer Society.

Panel discussions were featured, along with speakers from the Community Programs branch of the Department of Education, the Tourist Development branch of the Department of Tourism and Information, the regional representatives of the Ontario Centennial Planning branch and a women's representative.

"Let Ontario's Centennial Party be one in which everyone has a part and enters into the festivities," advised Jack Brockie, director, Ontario Centennial Planning branch.

"From Kenora to Prescott and from Windsor to Moosonee, let us all get involved in Centennial. May we begin projects and plans which will grow and make Canada a better place in which to live."

Men, women, teen-agers and school children in both the urban and rural areas were urged to participate to the fullest in celebrations spaced throughout the entire Centennial year.

"The birthday of Confederation is a too great and important event to celebrate in a few short hours or even weeks. To our way of thinking, the celebrations should last through the whole year," said Mr. Brockie.

Women were called upon to become involved personally.

"No real contribution is ever made toward anything until you, yourself, become personally involved," Mrs. Peggie Neville of Haliburton, told the ladies.

"If the town's project is on such a grand scale that you don't seem to fit in, find a project of your own that you can wholeheartedly embrace. Don't strive for the unattainable. Begin where you are. That . . . a little imagination, and a lot of enthusiasm . . . are all you need. Women worked beside their men in pioneering this country. Let them now work beside their men in celebrating the results of their ancestors' endeavors."

Mr. Don Goodwin of Huntsville, speaking on the Ontario Tourist Industry, said that the Ontario Economic Council estimates that one dollar in ten of every pay cheque in this province is the result of tourist spending. The Department of Tourism and Information is doing everything in its power out the other nine provinces.

to promote and encourage the tourist industry, and predicts that its promotion will increase and come to its highest point in 1967. It urges that one of the members of every Centennial Committee in Ontario be someone concerned with the tourist attractions in the area, since the department can do only so much — the rest is up to the people and the effort they expend to make visitors welcome.

Mr. Don Maddocks gave an interesting talk on community programs and projects throughout Ontario, outlining the system whereby grants may be obtained on a federal and provincial level, and Mr. Oliver Pomeroy, Havelock town councillor, spoke on projects being developed throughout the other nine provinces.

WARP and WOOF

Weather Reports Light snow flurries, cold wind, no sunshine today. Roads are bare but there's still plenty of snow to be seen in the fields and by the roadside. Wonder if those big drifts will ever melt. The Lion is probably conferring with the Ides of March to wind it all up with a real chiller diller.

There's a wide variety of birds around; robins reported in the vicinity, but have not seen any yet. On a day likht today they make no sound, but swoop soundlessly to feed from the weeds in the field. A few are gathered on the telephone wires in solmn conclav, likely agreeing that they've arrived in the resort are a bit early.

The young fry are rejoicing in the demise of winter, and sloshing through the puddles with the nonchalance displayed only by the very young, toward wet, cold feet and ruined shoes. The ones with high rubbers are trying to find a puddle just deep enough to come to the top of the rubbers, and if its a mite over, all the better.

We've had our first rhubarb pie of the season: Three stalks of rhubarb, 49 cents plus sugar, egg and two crusts. Not exactly economical, but good.

March is Milk Month . . . so don't forget that milk is the food that not only adds years to your life, but also adds life to your years!

We have just received an interesting chain letter. This is a recipe club, no money involved, just good eating. You send one of your favorite recipes to No. 1 person on the and then send one copy to four of your friends. You receive 16 recipes. It should be interesting to see where they all come from.

The heavy snow of the past month has made people horse conscious. We gleaned the following from somewhere or other:

Business men who want to reduce their distribution cost should reconsider the use of the true one-horse power vehicle with their built in economy.

Capital cost of one horse power — it comes in Percheron (Powermite, Clydsdale Clipper and Belgian Bruiser models — is only two to three hundred dollars. The city of St. Johns is so sure it can save money by using horses that it is now experimenting with horse drawn snow plows.

Peterborough started to use horses about five years ago. It now has more horse drawn plows than mechanical plows. Estimated saving: $20,000 a year with horses, according to superintendent.

We have some animal stories for you this time. In case you missed hearing this one on 'Neibhroly News' several weeks ago, we'll include it.

Seems there was a porcupine who was fond of apples, and he was seen climbing up an apple tree, shaking the branches to dislodge the apples, and then climbed down and rolled in the fruit, impaling it on his quills, and then trotted off to store it in his fruit cellar.

There seems to be a little doubt in the announcer's mind as he related this story, and there's a little in ours too! However, if everything was exactly cut and dried, the world would be a sober old place, wouldn't it?

Hear about the mixed up wolf who has taken exception to the electric supply cables at an airport and spend his time attacking them? The wolf makes sneak attacks on the heavy braided copper cable and chews right through it — with disastrous effects on the power supply — ubt not on the wolf.

Then there was the case of the beaver colony in the Upsala area who chewed up the cable buried in muskeg, causing a power outage and damage estimated at $6,000.00.

And the pair of eagles who built a nest on a steel transmission line tower. Broom-handle sized branches comprising the nest caused a 21-minute power interruption when they contacted the 115,000 volt line.

A U.S. citiy's Newsletter cites several examples of what it calls "far, far-out federal extravagance", not the least of which is the $17,500 "for the modification of alcohol preference in rats".

It seems to suggest that the rat population of the U.S. leaves something to be desired where its drinking habits are concerned. If an attempt is to be made to wean the rodents away from alcohol entirely, well and good, but if they are simply catering to some exatic preference on the part of these pests, then it's a bit much. If those U.S. rats can't find something to their taste among the many alcoholic beverages now available, we say — let them lump it.

JOKE POT

In a letter sent to a Legion official: "You are invited to be one of the speakers at our Memorial Day Service. The program will include a talk by the mayor, song by school pupils, your talk and ther the firing squad."

When a minister visited the home of one of his parishioners at sundown he found the father of the household busily putting away toys and bicycles used by his small children during the day.

"Preacher," he said, "since I've been married I've sure learned the true meaning of those words in the Bible, 'When I became a man I put away childish things'."

Diets are said to be for people who are thick and tired of it.

Just as an elderly man stepped from the curb, a huge dog tore around the corner and knocked him flat on his back. He had barely struggled to his feet when a small foreign car brushed against him and knocked him down again. A passerby rushed over and helped the old boy to his feet.

"Ae you all right?" he asked. The old man steadied himself then replied, "That dog didn't hurt me any, but that danged can tied to his tail nearly killed me."

That's all — and remember if you do nothing but growl all day naturally you'll be dog tired at night.

MORE STREET LIGHTS FOR MINDEN

Anson, Hindon and Minden council decided last week to install some street lights in Minden. The lights will be installed at the corner of First and Sixth street at lot 76 and the hydro will install a pole and another light next to the retaining wall at the front corner of the Minden Municipal Building in a position to light the front of the fire hall as well as the parking area.

At the meeting council requested Councillor Robert Gorrie and Mr. William Chambers Jr. as representatives of Anson, Hindon and Minden to meet with a committee from Stanhope to discuss the possibility of a burial vault.

Council accepted the tender of Thompson Crush for crushing 10,000 yards at the rate of 88 cents at the yard. The tender is subject to the approval of the Department of Highways.

BUILDING PERMIT LOWERED

Anson, Hindon and Minden council revised the township's building bylaw that lowered the cost of one type of building permit. By-law 17-64, which was a bylaw that was passed by the previous council was amended.

Paragraph 7-A was amended as follows, "The fee payable for a permit for a project with an estimated cost of over $25,000 shall be one-tenth of one per cent of tendered price up to a maximum fee of $125.00."

Previously there was no restriction on the amount of cost for a building permit when the project was high priced.

At the meeting council granted a rebate of $514.52 to Andeen Construction Co. as in line with by-law 8. Andeen Construction are the contractors for the new Senior Citizens Home being built in Minden.

YOUTH

Kevin Oxley, a ward of the Children's Aid Society in Toronto was sentenced to six months definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory for breaking into cottages in the Drag River resort area on Mar. 9.

He was sentenced in Lindsay police court Thursday to four equal concurrent sentences following conviction on four break, enter and theft charges last week.

Magistrate Ian Munro said reports showed the youth has a normal IQ. He told the youth, "A great number of people have gone to a great deal of trouble over you. You were on suspended sentence and have been given every possible consideration but I have a duty to protect people and their property."

Evidence given by Minden OPP Const. Dean Elliott last week showed the youth had been apprehended at one of the cottages he broke into. He had said the accused had entered by breaking windows in the cottages. The accused was going to set up housekeeping in the cottage he was apprehended in. From other cottages the accused took food and clothing.

Last November, Oxley was convicted on 15 charges of breaking into cottages and returned to the custody of the Toronto CAS.

CAS OFFICERS NAMED AT AGM

The slate of officers for the Victoria-Haliburton Children's Aid Society approved at last night's annual meeting of the CAS has only one change from last year. B. Barrett will replace George Aitken on the directorate. Mr. Aitken is moving to Vancouver because of his employment.

The officers elected for 1965 included Rev. B. A. Garrett, president; Harold Kennedy, 1st vice-president; C. E. Ferguson, treasurer. Directors named were B. Barrett, John L. Baker, Roy Neville, A. T. Lacey, Edward Hill, Terry Jackson, Roy Morrison (Victoria County) and Frank Welch (Haliburton County).

Do you have to ration hot water on wash days and bath nights?

a Cascade 40 electric water heater can change all that.

Cascade 40 has two elements: a 1000-watt lower element for normal use, and a 3000-watt top element that surges into action at times of extra heavy use. That's why the Cascade 40 can supply more hot water than the average family is ever likely to use.

Cascade 40 is flameless, safe and clean. It requires no flue so it can be installed anywhere. The ten year guarantee on the tank is your assurance of Cascade 40's reliability.

With a Cascade 40, the cost of abundant hot water is low. For more information...

SPORTS

WITH BOB BEENEY

The Minden Monarchs, at this time of scribing, are having a rough time with Nobleton — not on the ice surface but in the negotiation part of the three out of five playoff series.

The Monarchs defeated the team from Nobleton in two of the first three games played and Nobleton were to play the Monarchs at Bobcaygeon for what could have been the deciding game if the Minden team won. However, Nobleton decided to forego the game with the lame excuse that their team was also entered in a bush league and could not play at Bobcaygeon on the date scheduled.

It is absolutely ridiculous that a visiting team can tell the home team when they will play a game and worse still not give the home team a reasonable length of time to cancel the game.

The Ontario Rural Hockey Association should have immediately awarded the game to Minden and let the Monarchs advance to the finals. From the delay that has taken place I wonder if the executive of the league tend to favor some teams more than others. In my limited experience in the game of hockey since I've lived in Minden it almost seems that any team from the northern end of the league never gets a good shake when the executive makes a decision. Perhaps by the time this column is printed the O.R.H.A. president will have made a decision on the Minden-Nobleton series and it will be interesting to see what that decision will be.

The Minden Minor Hockey Association executive held a meeting last week to make plans for a hockey program for the 1965-1966 season.

Last year the association instructed approximately 100 boys from the ages of seven to seventeen in the sport. Also included in last year's program was a hockey school.

Plans being made for the next season show that about the same number of children will be registered again. It appears as if there will be two teams of Mites. In the squirt division there will be a possible two teams that will likely be in a league and will compete with teams from other towns. The past winter there was a town league with four teams in it but most of the kids will advance to pee-wee competition. In the pee-wee class there will be two teams who like the squirts will play in a county type league. Last year there was only one pee-wee team. It is expected that a bantam and midget team will also be organized. Whether these teams will enter in Ontario Minor Hockey Association playdowns will be a decision the executive will make at a later date.

While on minor hockey I would like to mention a draw that the executive is promoting. First prize will be a weekend with all expenses paid at a resort in Haliburton. The weekend that the executive decided on was Thanksgiving and will give some lucky couple something to look forward to. There will also be a lot of other prizes and the executive is hoping some of the merchants around the town will donate the secondary prizes that will give the draw some extra punch.

The association is basing all their plans on the success of this draw to support the hockey program for next year. So if you're hit up for a ticket or two help the fellows out so they can help the youth of the community.

A meeting was held at Joan Mackenzie's home last week to see if enough ladies could be abnded together to form a group to play volleyball and badminton. Other activities are also planned. The executive of the group is to meet with the recreation committee next week.

Nearly 700 housewives and business women in 23 communities across Canada voluntarily give about 87,000 hours of their time annually by serving in the Canadian Red Cross Corps.

of construction at Presqu'ile Park, which was then under development. From here he was moved to the district office and promoted to superintendent of Serpent Mounds, Emily and Burnham Parks.

His most recent promotion, to superintendent of 4,000-acre Rondeau Park, is well deserved and we wish him every possible success.

J. L. "Jim" Hamill's department career began in 1949 in Kenora, Ontario; in 1963 he came to the Lindsay district to serve in the capacity of Presqu'ile Park superintendent.

His able performance of the responsibilities of this position during the past two years has earned him a promotion to the post of chief ranger at Powassan, Ontario.
